FOR DAILY USE

Organising labels to help bring order to your life

After putting labels on these boxes stored away in the cupboard, you know what's inside without re-opening them.

With those identical seasoning jars labelled, there'll be no room for confusion. you'll know what's in them at a glance.

FOR PERSONALISING

Charming naming labels that are a class above

Not just ordinary name tags, these great-looking labels will stop you from losing things so often.

This is also great for textile items such as handkerchiefs. Stylish name tags can be added using tape that is ironed on.

FOR GIFTS

Gift wrapping labels to add a personal touch

Use ribbon tape to tie up a bouquet and pass on your wishes by adding your own message.

When giving the gift of homemade jam, add the date it was made for their peace of mind

Share the love. Share the joy

Share your family's special moments, no matter how far away they are. Print personal QR code label to stick onto their cards and gifts. When they scan the QR code on their phone, it magically shows your special family video or photos, bringing a smile to their faces, and you closer together.

The future of labelling is right at your fingertips

Recharge from USB, Always ready to print

Most label printers use a lot of power, needing frequent battery replacement. Other than the cost-inefficiency, it's also unfriendly to the environment. Its powerful li-on battery recharges from your computer or an AC to USB plug adapter.

More design options from your PC or Mac

If you prefer, the P-touch CUBE label printer can connect to your computer via USB. Using the free P-touch Editor label design software, you can include many objects on your label, exactly where needed. Barcodes, logos, images, frames and many other object can be added. App or computer: the choice is yours.

Personalized print, indoors or outdoors

Need labels for food containers in the kitchen? Ribbons for gift wrapping on the dining room table? Or organising the contents of your tool shed or greenhouse? the P-touch CUBE small enough to carry around the house or garden or office, to print wherever needed.

Design your labels whenever convenient

Design your labels while enjoying a relaxing coffee with the use of your smartphones.
